Changing of the Guard...

President Mike Peterson informed us at least a month ago that he might have to leave us, and it finally happened. Mike's employment forced him to be suddenly transferred to Orlando, Florida. And not only have we lost a president, his wife Deanna (our secretary) will be joining him after complications of the sudden move are finished in Saginaw. Mike wasn't looking forward to the possibility, but it is at least a promotion. Mike was a dedicated club member and officer, and he brought many innovative ideas into the club. We certainly thank him for all his contributions, and wish him well in his new endeavors. And consider; he now dives clear, warm waters! He'll be back to visit at some time. Good Luck, Mike and Deanna!

In the meantime, the president's position will be filled by the v.p.; Terry Lisk. Terry is another dedicated person, and the club is in good hands. (Now; who can we entice to be secretary?...)

July Meeting and Picnic; the Haithco Outing

It was one of those things that just come together at the last minute, but Saginaw County Dive Team member Tim Hastings got us cleared to use the south end of Haithco Lake for our July picnic. Although there is parking and a pavilion at the south end, it is normally locked off to the general public; the beach and regular public use is at the north end. The weather started off beautiful for diving; the water was warm with about 3' vis. After the dive, fine food (SUE brats) was grilled by Tim. The attendees were fed and relaxed, and v.p. Terry Lisk conducted the business meeting. The July meeting climaxed with a major thunderstorm passing through the area, suggesting we leave. Tim promises we can go back again; thanks, Tim!

Fair Warning...

In the news- A judge in Cheboygan recently ordered a 53-yr-old diver to return the artifacts he stole from Great Lakes shipwrecks. In particular, he had a beam from the William H. Barnum sunk in the Straits of Mackinaw. He was apparently planning on using it for a fireplace mantel. There wasn't any word on other artifacts he had in his possession Dive News!

. The weather was beautiful for an August 1 dive excursion. Greg Prenzler, Ken Kruska and Tony Piazza joined Dave Sommers on his boat for a day on Lake Huron. They launched at Lexington and were able to get three dives in. The Regina had two other boats tied up when they arrived. They were able to raft up and everyone had a great dive with about 15 feet of visibility on the wreck in about 85 feet of water. One foot waves made for an easy trip to the Sport where the second dive in about 45 feet was made. The third dive was on the Strong in about 20 feet. The shallow wreck made for a nice last dive and allowed they guys to burn down the tanks. Visibility was only about 5 feet on this wreck just off the Lexington Harbor. Terry Lisk, along with Dale Purchase and Tom Fritz took Terry's 'Chamber Maid' on a dive out to the Dobbins north of the Charities. Unfortunately, the weather was terrible; high waves prevented them from getting on the Dobbins. Not to give up, they came back and dove the Goshawk, and the Alabaster buckets. However, the most interesting-sounding dive of the year was by Fred LaClair. Fred went with a group to Latvia, and was invited to dive with a club there. They dove on a Viking ship, but it's unclear as to whether it was a replica or an original. I understand the local group was pretty impressed by Fred's equipment; none of them had a BC. Fred; you're invited to tell us more at the meeting!
