July Calendar-

The SCOOP hopes everyone had a good 4th/July holiday (and would appreciate any diving reports). But do not forget, faithful readers; July has just started, and this coming Tuesday is the annual club picnic at Otter Lake. Not only is the picnic offered, but pristine diving in these still waters. Times aren't critical, but diving will begin about 5 and the food service will be after 7. This will be followed by the regular business meeting. If you aren't attracted to the dive or picnic, I'm sure you won't want to miss the meeting. Please give Pres. Cunningham a call at 799 4385 to let him know you're coming (or e/m donaldcunningham@yahoo.com)

Local Dive News

-Is again typically sparse. The only diver reporting any activity has been Chas Storck, who has been on a number of dives sponsored by Dive-n-Glide. The group did a weekend dive at Gilboa quarry, and some diving at Houghton Lake. Oops; no pics... Peggy from goscuba.com is doing a group dive at Pt. Sanilac this weekend; too late to get a SCOOP notification in (good vis, Peggy!) -

ORISKANY on bottom

Here's an idea for our club tank... That's a navy diver playing tic-tac-toe with a young girl in Hawaii. We'd have to find some sharp club members to challenge the community... (Marco Garcia-AP)
