Remember Our Troops!

Sept Sampler

The biggest September event was the recent exhibition of our diving tank at the Thomas Twp FD annual pancake breakfast. The community comes out strong for their fire dept, and get us as a bonus. Crowds start gathering about 9, and we have the tank set up so they have to see us as they walk by. The kids are the best; the bold ones put on the headset and have conversations with the diver such as "How'd you get in there? The shy kids won't talk, but they still stare. Some adults are even secure enough to talk to the diver... All are willing to give the diver a 'high five' as they leave.

Mike Fabish brought the tank about an hour before the breakfast, and got it filled from a tanker truck. Divers were Justin Fabish and Mark Russell. The person not in the tank would help the kids put on the headset to talk to the diver.

Location, location,...

We get a lot of good publicity out of this, and this builds interest in our club. We had at least one individual asking how to join, and we'll see him again.

If you haven't participated in this, be aware we'll be at the Saginaw Twp FD's open house this Sunday(Oct 2d), and you should come and share the glory. The next use for the tank will be the Zoo Boo... (plan on about the 3d weekend in Oct)

UnderWater ANTICS Presents
RIC MIXTER

More business, Mark

Ric in a serious mood (on facebook)

Awwwwwww...

The UnderWater Antics dive shop on M20 offered an open invitation to attend a special presentation by the noted Ric Mixer on ship wrecks in the Great Lakes. This particular presentation was "From 1935 to 1975"; a combination of slides and video of various shipwrecks.

Ric describes the slide scene

It covered underwater wreck scenes to accounts from survivors. Ric narrated and gave anecdotes through the scenes. Ric is an expert; he started his career as a photographer and devoted that to capturing history. He pointed out many of the ships were built in Bay City, and we in the area share a personal tie.

Nope; we're not ready to leave yet...

Ric is very friendly with his audience, and was open to any question. After the show he had a personal crowd keeping him going. Ric has too many credits to list here; you should Google his name to bring up his many videos. Also see

Great show; TY, Ric! And special thanks to Tim and Cheryl of UW Antics for hosting this. And the refreshments afterward!

Sept Club Dives-

Rob Quartermain got Kim Belchak and UrEd back to Puffer's Pond for the Tues night dive. (better last month)

Mike Fabish reports the trip to Munising was great!
