Fun Dive at Krystal Lake Campground

Justin Fabish and Bill Kirksey did the fun dive for July at Krystal Lake Campground. It's been a least 2 years since I've been there. Visibility was not great but by luck we found the rope connecting the hopper and boat but the rope was buried under heavy weeds to the boat so I took a compass heading along the rope and we found the boat. This was good practice for navigating in low visibility as Bill and I explored the pond. I found an ice fishing pole and Bill found several large living clams on the bottom. It was a beautiful day and relaxing dive.

If you could only pick
2 pills, which pills
would you choose?

Which ones would you choose?

I would have to choose numbers 4 & 6.

Peeing is so disruptive to my day. 😂
